'Spreading Butterflies across Australia'

Dr David Sheard returns to Australia spreading butterflies in dementia care

This is a historic week for Dementia Care Matters as David launches the first ever Butterfly Residential Aged Care Homes in Australia

Arriving into Brisbane on Sunday 10th July David commented :

" What is your dream for dementia care in Australia ?

Dementia care could be so different for older Australians if you want it to be !

My dream began in the UK 21 years ago - a dream that centred on revolutionising the care of people in care homes by seeing people living with a dementia as ' more feeling beings than thinking beings. "

It is time for culture change in Australia too - dismantling task based care and returning aged care homes back to truly human emotional care first

The Butterfly Household Model of Care which turns care homes into households is already established in the UK, Ireland and Canada

It is a dream to be here in Australia over the next 2 weeks to launch Butterfly Home Projects in Brisbane, Canberra and Port Broughton

To an audience of people experiencing a dementia, major politicians, media, community groups, families and aged care staff David will speak passionately and emotionally for the need for change
